SecureNet Payment Systems Expands Senior Management Team With New Hire

Rockville, M.D.

SecureNet Payment Systems, a leading payment processor for networks such as Visa, Mastercard and American Express, is pleased to announce the addition of a new member to its senior management team - Chief Technology Officer, Michael Garcia.

"Michael Garcia brings a vast amount of technical expertise to SecureNet," said founder and CEO Marc Potash. "In addition, Michael has unparalleled knowledge and contacts in software development and network engineering."

Prior to SecureNet, Michael was a Senior Manager at AOL, where his responsibilities included the management and oversight of a development infrastructure organization. Michael earned his BS in Economics and an MBA from Georgetown University in Washington, DC.
